

	Lab Assistant/ students job
Institute	Materials Science Faculty of Engineering Christian-Albrechts University of Kiel Kaiserstrasse 2 D 24143 Kiel Germany
Department	Microanalysis of Materials
Job Description:	Microanalysis of materials with analytical electron microscopy - introduction to and participation in on-going research Access to practical experience in TEM specimen preparation - including mechanical preparation methods and ion beam milling methods - participation in lab maintenance, cleaning and in managing lab equipment Access to practical experience in TEM and SEM specimen investigations - participation in the analyses using the available methods of analytical TEM Access to practical experience with TEM-related computer simulation programs - participation in TEM data evaluations
Requirements:	Only applicants to the International Study Program in Materials Science and Engineering can apply (www.kielmat.com)
Higher priority will be given the applicants experienced or with background in the fields of:	-
Employment Dates:	November 1, 2008 – September 31, 2009 with possibility of prolongation for another year
Hours per month	50
Payment	Approx 400 Euro per month
Interested applicants should submit a resume that includes the following information:	Full legal name Mailing address Email address Previous work or volunteer experience Education Copy of most recent transcript
Send resume by postal or electronic mail to:	Prof. W. Jäger wj@tf.uni-kiel.de
Application deadline is May 15th, 2008	